GENERAL RULES

Rule:0001 - Application of Tariff

Application of rules:

The rules in this tariff govern the application of all fares and charges published in the tariff. These rules constitute the conditions upon which the carrier transports or agrees to transport and are expressly agreed to by the passenger to the same extent as if such rules were included as conditions in the contract of carriage.

Fares in effect:

Transportation is subject to the rules in effect on the date on which such transportation commences at the point of origin on the ticket.

Responsibility of carrier:

The carrier will be responsible for providing transportation only over its own lines. When the carrier undertakes to issue a ticket, check baggage, or make any other arrangements for transportation over the lines of any other carrier (whether or not such transportation is part of a through service), the carrier will act only as an agent for such other carrier and will assume no responsibility for the acts or omissions of such other carrier.

Application of tariff:

No agent, servant or representative of carrier has authority to alter, modify or waive any provisions of the contract of carriage or of this tariff.

In carry-on baggage:

Seats cannot be purchased for musical instruments, however small musical instruments (e.g. clarinet, flute, oboe, trumpet, guitar or violin) may be permitted as part of your standard carry-on baggage allowance as long as it meets the current Air Inuit carry-on size requirements and:

They are in its hard-shell case for appropriate protection.

They do not weigh more than 5 kg (11lb).

They fit under the seat in front of you or in the overhead bin.

Due to cabin storage space limitations, we cannot guarantee that a musical instrument can be accommodated on board. Storage is provided on a "first come, first serve" basis, so it is always a good idea to arrive for boarding early.

Instruments may need to be checked at the gate and transported as checked baggage if the airport agent or cabin crew determines that it cannot be safely stowed in the cabin. For this reason, musical instruments should always be properly packed in a hard-shell case specifically designed for that type of instrument.

A musical instrument you take on board will count as part of your carry-on allowance, as either a personal or standard article (depending on the size and weight of the instrument)

In checked baggage

Musical instruments are considered part of the checked-in baggage allowance; meaning if the total weight of the bags (including the musical instrument) exceeds the maximum weight limit per passenger excess charges will apply. The maximum weight of musical instruments is 32 kg (70 lb).

How to pack

Musical instruments will be accepted as checked baggage, provided each piece is properly packed in a hard-shell case. While soft or polyfoam cases generally provide adequate protection for day-to-day handling, they're not well suited for air travel.

Instruments should fit snug in its case. If there's any noticeable wiggle room, it's a good idea to fill the open space with rags, towels, or T-shirts to prevent the instrument from moving around. Mark the instrument case FRAGILE, even if it's shaped like a musical instrument.

When a stringed instrument is transported by air, it may be exposed to dramatic changes in temperature and pressure, which can cause it's headstocks to crack or snap off. To prevent possible damage, it is your responsibility to ensure that the strings are loosened so that the tension is reduced.

- Paper business documents

Mechanical drawings, blueprints, maps, charts, historical documents and photographs include negatives, prints, portraits and slides.

- Perishable items

Carrier does not agree to carry perishable items unless they are appropriately packed for carriage and checked as a separate piece of baggage. Carrier agrees to carry perishable items which are unsuitably or inadequately packed but only upon the execution of a baggage limited release tag (see paragraph (3) below) at time of check-in and shall also require the completion of the tag, at check-in time, for appropriately packed perishable items which are checked as a separate piece of baggage.

Execution of a release form also relieves the Carrier of liability for spoilage or substantial loss of value or potency which results from the Carrier's delay in delivery of checked baggage when such spoilage results from the unsuitability of such items as checked baggage and not from the Carrier's failure to exercise the ordinary standard of care.

Rule:0245 - Denied Boarding Compensation

Denied boarding compensation (not applicable to standby fares)

When the Carrier is unable to provide previously confirmed space due to their being more passengers holding confirmed reservations and tickets than for which there are available seats on that flight, the Carrier shall implement the provisions of this rule.

A. Request for volunteers

- 1) From among the confirmed revenue passengers, the Carrier will request volunteers to relinquish their seats in exchange for compensation as defined in (D).
- 2) Once a passenger has voluntarily relinquished his seat, he will not later be involuntarily denied boarding unless he was advised at the time he volunteered of such possibility and the amount of compensation of which he would be entitled.
- 3) The request for volunteers and the selection of passengers to be denied boarding shall be in a manner solely determined by the Carrier.

B. Boarding priorities:

- 1) If a flight is oversold, no passenger may be involuntarily denied boarding until the Carrier first requests for volunteers to relinquish their seats.
- 2) In the event there are not enough volunteers, other passengers may be involuntarily denied boarding in accordance with the Carrier's boarding priority policy. Passengers with confirmed reservations, who have not received a boarding pass, will be permitted to board in the following order until all available seats are occupied:
 - Passengers with disabilities, unaccompanied children under 12 years of age, and others for whom, in the Carrier's assessment, failure to carry would cause severe hardship.
 - Passengers paying full economy fares, and/or part of a group.
 - All other passengers; these passengers will be accommodated in the order in which they present themselves for check-in and boarding.

C. Alternative travel arrangements:

- A passenger, who has been denied boarding, either voluntarily or involuntarily, will be transported without stopover on the next available flight of the Carrier on which space is available, regardless of the class of service, and at no additional cost to him/her. Original ticket will be refunded if journey no longer has purpose.

D. Standards of Treatments:

- While passengers are waiting, we will provide a reasonable amount of food and beverages, based on length of delay, time of day and location of airport.
- Passengers will have access to available means of communication.
- If necessary, overnight accommodations will be provided, as well as transportation to and from said accommodation.

E. Communication of information to passengers:

- The following information will be communicated to all affected passengers
- Why they are being denied boarding
- Whether or not the reason requires the airline to compensate them for the inconvenience
- If applicable how much the airline must pay them and how the amount changes with the length of delay.
- What treatment (food, drink, and other) the airline must give them
- The passengers' rights and options for making a complaint, including to the Agency.

F. Compensation:

In addition to providing transportation in accordance with (C) above, a passenger who has been denied boarding will be compensated by the Carrier as follows;

- 6-9 hours: $1800

Passenger may choose to forego monetary compensation for a confirmed space ticket valid on Air Inuit's network.

If accepted by the passenger, such tender will constitute full compensation for all actual or anticipatory damages, incurred or to be incurred. A written confirmation of the amount of compensation will be provided to the passenger.

G. Exceptions:

The passenger will not be eligible for compensation if:

- He/she is offered a seat in a compartment of the aircraft other than that specified on his/her ticket at no extra charge to him/her. Should he/she be seated in a compartment for which a lower fare applies, he/she shall be entitled to the appropriate refund)
- His/her reservation has been cancelled pursuant to rule 135 (cancellation of reservations) (B) failure to occupy space, or (C) failure to purchase ticket within specified time or (D) failure to meet check-in requirements
- When the flight on which he/she holds a confirmed and ticketed reservation is cancelled or space has been requisitioned by the government or medical authorities for emergency transportation

- If, for operational and safety reasons, the aircraft has been substituted with one having lesser capacity.
- If passenger is travelling on a non-revenue ticket.

Rule:0255 - Rerouting – When Allowed/Voluntary

- A. The Carrier will reroute a passenger at the passenger's request and upon presentation of the ticket or portion thereof prior to arrival at the destination named on the original ticket PROVIDED that after transportation has commenced, a one-way ticket will not be converted into a round trip ticket.
- B. The fare and charges applicable when a rerouting or change is made at the passenger's request shall be the fare and charges that would have been applicable had the original ticket designated the routing and/or destination as revised by the new ticket.

Rule:0260 - Refunds – Involuntary

If a portion of the ticket has been used, the refund will be an amount equal to the difference between the fare and charges applicable to the ticket issued to the passenger and the fare and charges applicable to the transportation of the passenger covered by the used portion of the ticket, including any applicable cancellation penalties.

Rule:0271 - Lost Tickets

NOTE: The carrier generally issues an electronic ticket (E-Ticket) and those may be retrieved and reprinted free of charge when one of the following is provided: record locator, ticket number, phone number, flight number and travel date, origin & destination and travel date or the credit card number used to pay for the ticket. Refund will be made in accordance with (A) and (B) above provided application therefore has been made not later than one month after the expiration date of the lost ticket to the general offices of carrier on forms prescribed by carrier for such refunds. Refund will be made upon application provided that the lost ticket or lost portion thereof has not previously been honored for transportation or refunded to any person, and provided that the passenger agrees, in such form as may be prescribed by the carrier, to indemnify carrier for any loss or damage which it may sustain by reason of such refund.
